B Japan Defense Agency (JDA), annual list of 20 largest contractors. Data are not publicly available but have been obtained on special request.

Summaries of the list are made available in international military specialized press.

C Japan has a highly restrictive policy on arms exports. A set of government guidelines on how to interpret the national arms exports legislation, rather than the legislation itself, restrict the export of goods to be employed in combat. See Ian Anthony, 'Japan', pp. 103 ff., in Ian Anthony (ed.), Arms Export Regulations, SIPRI, Oxford University Press, Oxford 1991.

These national data pages deal with statistics on arms production and employment published by national governments and industry associations.

The SIPRI Arms Transfers project may have additional information on exports. These data can be downloaded at http://www.sipri.org/contents/armstrad/gov\_exp\_04-05.xls
